REPEAT LEFT SLEEVE INSTRUCTIONS TO MAKE RIGHT SLEEVE

KNITTING THE NECKBAND

STEP 1: with the right side of knit front facing the right side of back sweater, join the left front shoulder to the left back shoulder with pins and stitch using the sewing machine.

Pick up stitches for the shoulder, back, front neckband or welt, except the right front shoulder. With yarn (for welt), knit 1 row using stitch dial 3 (this is because, the stitches are tight, carriage needs to move freely).

And then change stitch dial to “2” and knit 11 rows.

Row counter shows 12.

Pick up loops to form rib and cast off.

NOTE: Neckband is not a mock-rib. Stitches are picked up (like in mock-rib) to make the neckband firm.

KNITTING THE BUTTONHOLE (watch the video on youtube: Anino tv)

STEP 1: Put the button on the front or back of the knitwear, to determine the number of stitches needed to knit the buttonhole. (For me it was “4” stitches).

STEP 2: Pick up stitches for the shoulder (Hang the shoulder area where the buttonhole is to be knitted) on the knitting machine, and then knit half of the rows needed for the welt. (Using tension 3 on the stitch dial and yarn in carriage, knit “one” row from right to left. Change stitch dial to 2.5 and knit “2” more rows. Carriage is on the left. Row counter shows “3”) (For example:- if you need to knit “8” rows for the welt, half of “8” rows is 4 rows). However, since I am folding my welt as in mock rib because I love thick welts, so my pattern calls for 6 rows of welt (because I am folding the welt, I will need 12 rows to form my welt, that is “6” rows on one side, and 6 rows on the other side). So I will knit 3 rows first.

STEP 3: Push the needles for the actual button hole to “hold position” (evenly spacing the position for buttonholes) and with the ravel chord, manual knit “only” those needles.

STEP 4: Continue knitting the band until you are half way on the other side. (For me, my row counter shows “9”. That is first 3 rows before the Buttonhole and “3” more rows to complete the “6” rows needed for the first side of welt and “3” more rows for the half of the second side of welt).

STEP 5: If you notice, the stitches on the ravel chord has extra loop above the ravel chord compare to the stitches below.

STEP 6: Bring forward, the same needles that was used to knit the ravel chord for the buttonhole. Add one extra needle to the left of the needle. (For example, I used “4” needles for each set of my ravel chord-buttonhole (and I made 2 set of buttonholes), so now, I will push the same needles Forward, with one extra needle to the left of each set of needle, making it “5 needles” for buttonhole (this is because of that extra loop above).

STEP 7: Bring the right needle to upper working position, stitches goes behind the latch. Pick up the right hand (first loop) above the ravel chord and place on the right hand needle. knit the pick up stitch by pushing the needle backwards.

STEP 8: Transfer the stitch in step 7 to the next needle on the left. Bring this needle to upper working position. With both stitches behind the latch, Pick up the coordinating loop above the ravel chord and then place on hook of needle. Knit it manually.

STEP 9: Continue in this way (step 7 and 8), with the rest of the buttonhole stitches until there are as many empty needles as you need for the buttonhole and the last loop is picked up.

STEP 10: Pick the extra (last)loop and use it to knit the stitches on this extra needle. But do not transfer the stitch on the extra needle after it has been knitted.

STEP 11: Pick up the loops from below the ravel chord and place on the empty needles (“4” loops). Remove ravel chord.

STEP 12: continue knitting the remaining rows.(Row counter shows 12). Pick loops (of first row) to secure the welt. Knit one row and cast off. Insert the transfer tool into the buttonhole welt, to close the stitches. Remove ravel chord.
